

Tennessee

I am Tennessee, tough as Patsy Cline (you know, with a loud mouth and a big heart) and very absolute. I am here to remind you to never ever stand on your toes and to never bow for anyone. You are you. People can love you or not, accept you or not, but they will see you – the whole you and nothing less, for you won't ever lose touch with your beautiful self. No ma'am, not on my watch.

My go-to quote: “Here's to those who wish us well, and those who don't can go to hell.”
